

Abstract of the disclosure

A particle analyzer containing a device for acquiring particles of cellular material from a living body, a device for labeling the particles of cellular material produce labeled particles, a device for analyzing the labeled particles to produce analyzed and labeled particles, a device for sorting the analyzed and labeled particles to produce labeled and sorted particles, and a device for maintaining a portion of the analyzed and labeled particles in a viable state